Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill? (Please note that this question is compulsory.)

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

I have seen the massive steps forward in conflict fence and self esteem taken by young people in an outdoor environment. I have worked with inner city kids who have sadly never seen cows or sheep before.

Q2. Do you think legislation is required, or are there other ways in which the proposed Bill's aims could be achieved more effectively? Please explain the reasons for your response.

Legislation is definitely required. Outdoor education is often the first thing to go when the economy takes a downturn and yet it is one of the most valuable life skills and an experience every child remembers.

Q3. The proposed Bill will cover residential outdoor education provision for local authority and grant-aided schools only. Which of the following best expresses your view that independent schools or any other education establishments should not be covered by this obligation.

Partially supportive

Please give reasons for your response.

GIRFEC

Q4. The intention is that the obligation to ensure that residential outdoor education is provided would fall on those who are responsible for arranging the provision, e.g. education authorities and managers of grant-aided schools. Which of the following best expresses your view of this proposal?

Partially supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

This has to be led by someone passionate about making it happen to get the best possible experience.

Funding

Q5. Which of the following best expresses your view of how residential outdoor education experiences should be funded?

In full by the Scottish Government

Please explain the reasons for your response. (If you consider Scottish Government funding should be provided to local authorities, please set out the mechanism for such funding, for example through block grant, ring fenced funding etc.)

This needs to be a fundamental part of the education system not only there for those who can afford to take part. So yes money should be ring fenced.

Financial Implications

Q6. Any new law can have a financial impact which would affect individuals, businesses, the public sector, or others. What financial impact do you think this proposal could have if it became law?

a significant increase in costs

Please explain the reasons for your answer, including who you would expect to feel the financial impact of the proposal, and if there are any ways you think the proposal could be delivered more cost-effectively.

Long term thinking has to be applied for the cost benefit of the experience. Wilderness therapy could be considered alongside residential when it is appropriate considering weather conditions etc.

Standard/ Quality of provision

Q7. Which of the following best expresses your view on the proposal for a quality framework to ensure the quality of the education provision of outdoor centres?

Fully supportive

Q8. Which of the following best expresses your view that the age range of 12 – 16 is appropriate for participation in the residential outdoor education experience?

Fully supportive

Please give reasons for your response, including whether you think other age ranges would be more appropriate.

Outdoor experiences could be introduced to a younger age building up to the residential experience.

Equalities

Q9. Any new law can have an impact on different individuals in society, for example as a result of their age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership status, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation.

What impact could this proposal have on particular people if it became law? If you do not have a view skip to next question.

Please explain the reasons for your answer and if there are any ways you think the proposal could avoid negative impacts on particular people.

A wilderness experience delivered appropriately is a great leveller and helps people get understand others. Care should be taken to ensure outdoor education providers have the experience to deal with diversity.

Q10. How might equity of provision for all be ensured, regardless of socio-economic status? Please give reasons for your response.

It is open to all and the proper kit and equipment is available to all. There are many different ways to deliver vet a wilderness or residential experience not necessarily one size fits all. It has to be recognised as a fundamental part of education not an add on.

Sustainability

Q11. Any new law can impact on work to protect and enhance the environment, achieve a sustainable economy, and create a strong, healthy, and just society for future generations.

Do you think the proposal could impact in any of these areas? [If you do not have a view then skip to next question]

Please explain the reasons for your answer, including what you think the impact of the proposal could be, and if there are any ways you think the proposal could avoid negative impacts?

When an outdoor experience is delivered well
For each young person all of the above are impacted positively. Care should be given to ensure it is the correct time and place for an individual to take part.

General

Q12. Do you have any other additional comments or suggestions on the proposed Bill (which have not already been covered in any of your responses to earlier questions)?

Outdoor education not just a residential experience becoming part of the curriculum and identifying the positive benefits to all of such projects like Forrest schools, duke of Edinburgh and John Muir trust awards. Hey f someone cannot take part in a residential than daily experiences could be available.
