

Proposed Schools (Residential Outdoor Education) (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to ensure that young people have the opportunity to experience residential outdoor education.

The consultation runs from 29 April 2022 to 22 July 2022

All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document.

Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer.

All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. If you do not include a name and/or contact details, we may have to disregard your response.

Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded.

Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. The consultation document is available here:

Aim and approach - Note: All answers to the questions in this section may be published (unless your response is "not for publication").

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill? (Please note that this question is compulsory.)

Fully supportive

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill? (Please note that this question is compulsory.)

Please explain the reasons for your response.

This is such an important experience for our young people, especially those from urban areas.

Q2. Do you think legislation is required, or are there other ways in which the proposed Bill's aims could be achieved more effectively? Please explain the reasons for your response.

It could also be achieved through ring fenced money given to local authorities. However, I think legislation would be more effective - as the permanency of it would allow the outdoor education sector the guarantee of funding they need in order to build capacity. At the moment, there are too few outdoor education centres to be able to provide a week to every child.

Q3. The proposed Bill will cover residential outdoor education provision for local authority and grant-aided schools only. Which of the following best expresses your view that independent schools or any other education establishments should not be covered by this obligation.

Fully supportive

Please give reasons for your response.

They have the money to arrange their own trips.

Q4. The intention is that the obligation to ensure that residential outdoor education is provided would fall on those who are responsible for arranging the provision, e.g. education authorities and managers of grant-aided schools. Which of the following best expresses your view of this proposal?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

It means local authorities can make their own arrangements with local providers.

Funding

Q5. Which of the following best expresses your view of how residential outdoor education experiences should be funded?

In full by the Scottish Government

Please explain the reasons for your response. (If you consider Scottish Government funding should be provided to local authorities, please set out the mechanism for such funding, for example through block grant, ring fenced funding etc.)

SG funding should be provided to local authorities for this in the same way as other core education funding - ie via the block grant. No contribution should be required from parents - otherwise it won't be an entitlement and many pupils will lose out.

Financial Implications

Q6. Any new law can have a financial impact which would affect individuals, businesses, the public sector, or others. What financial impact do you think this proposal could have if it became law?

some increase in costs

Please explain the reasons for your answer, including who you would expect to feel the financial impact of the proposal, and if there are any ways you think the proposal could be delivered more cost-effectively.

Local authorities and schools already subsidise these trips to differing extents. There would therefore be some increase in costs to extend it to a universal entitlement. This will be met through general taxation. It should be said also that the provision of residential outdoor education will result in an economic boost to the rural communities involved in its delivery and will create jobs, contributing to economic growth. It is also likely to have a wider economic impact as young people become more aware of the tourism options available within Scotland. It will also have health benefits for the young people involved, which we know correlate to better economic outcomes. Therefore, while there will be financial costs, there will also be some positive economic impact of the plan.

Standard/ Quality of provision

Q7. Which of the following best expresses your view on the proposal for a quality framework to ensure the quality of the education provision of outdoor centres?

Fully supportive

Please give reasons for your response, including whether this should be done by HMIE using a quality framework as part of their inspection of schools and the extent to which, if any, it should be statutory.

Yes there should be regulation and quality assurance. I am not sure however whether this should be provided by HMIE.

Q8. Which of the following best expresses your view that the age range of 12 – 16 is appropriate for participation in the residential outdoor education experience?

Partially supportive

Please give reasons for your response, including whether you think other age ranges would be more appropriate.

Most schools also do a residential trip in P6/7, but 12-16 would work too. I think it would have most benefits in secondary if it was aimed at S1/2.

Equalities

Q9. Any new law can have an impact on different individuals in society, for example as a result of their age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership status, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation.

What impact could this proposal have on particular people if it became law? If you do not have a view skip to next question.

Please explain the reasons for your answer and if there are any ways you think the proposal could avoid negative impacts on particular people.

I think there needs to be discussion specifically with BAME families as to how provision of residential outdoor education can meet their needs. Anecdotally, at both my school and my children's school (both in Glasgow southside), there is a clear difference in attendance at residential trips between ethnicities, with BAME pupils far less likely to attend. Research needs to be conducted into why this is, and efforts made to remove any barriers.

Q10. How might equity of provision for all be ensured, regardless of socio-economic status? Please give reasons for your response.

It must be fully funded with no parental contribution required. Any form of contribution, regardless of whether it is means tested, will result in children missing out.

Sustainability

Q11. Any new law can impact on work to protect and enhance the environment, achieve a sustainable economy, and create a strong, healthy, and just society for future generations.

Do you think the proposal could impact in any of these areas? [If you do not have a view then skip to next question]

Please explain the reasons for your answer, including what you think the impact of the proposal could be, and if there are any ways you think the proposal could avoid negative impacts?

Yes - it will have a positive impact on rural areas and the provision of sustainable tourism.

General

Q12. Do you have any other additional comments or suggestions on the proposed Bill (which have not already been covered in any of your responses to earlier questions)?
